Install theme:

You can install MegaHost in two different ways:

1. Upload the .zip - Preferred method.

When you log into your wordpress panel go to Appearance / Themes / Add New / Upload Theme, Then Unzip the folder Megahost-files.zip downloaded from themeforest, then inside that folder go to the WordPress theme folder and select the megahost file. Zip and have it installed now.

2. Load Ftp:

Unzip the contents of megahost.zip that is inside Megahost-files.zip and turn into the Wordpress theme folder, and upload the content to your server in wp-content / themes Using an ftp client.

After installing by either method activate your theme.

3. Demonstration content:

You can import demo content from our demo site with a single click of a button. Go to Appearance » Demo import data and click the import button.

Do not forget to activate all necessary plugins before importing demo data.

Then go to Mega main menu in the lower left menu / select menu-1 and save changes, then in the bottom where it says backup Select the menu-config.txt file that is inside the Demo-data folder of your Megahost folder -files.

You have already installed and configured the theme with the demo content.

4. Customize appearance:

You can customize the general theme styles in the following section:

A. Theme Settings:

In the Theme settings section of the customizer you will find multiple options which you can modify to your liking.

- Colors: here we have site accent color which is the skin or main colors of the site and the bottom of the body
- Layout: The site has 4 different layouts options which will allow you to customize your site in a better way. I must clarify that within the options of each page or post, there is also the option to modify the layout, the theme will always give priority to the layout that is chosen in the page that is being edited. In the customize it will be able to define the layouts of the pages that do not have a different layout to the customizer default.

Example:

- Header Style: In this section we will be able to choose the style of our header, in each page also these options are available, but there is an additional one which is customizer default, priority will always be given to the option that is selected in the page And will skip the customizer if the default customizer option is not selected on the page.

- Support Header: In this section you will be able to configure the login section to whmcs.

MEGAHOST

- Blog: Here you will be able to choose the position of the sidebar categories, files, taxonomies and tags. Also you will be able to define the position of the sidebar of the single post, you have to keep in mind that each post has the option to have a different sidebar position, so always give priority to the chosen option when editing the post, Otherwise it will take the customizer.

B. Site Identity

D. Menus: MegaHost has two menu options, one at the top of the site that would be Header menu (main nav), and another at the bottom of the site that would be Footer menu (footer nav).

E. Widgets: In this section you can put the widgets you want in the pages that are enabled as per axis in the post.

5. Typography and palettes

To change the general typography of the site and the colors of the titles and the body of the site you must edit any page with elemental and in the option left superior you can select these options, it is necessary to take into account that these are the general options, but in each Element of megahost you can use the font and color you want.

5. Custom post type - Footer elements

This section is very important because it will allow us to create and modify the footer to our liking, to later select them in the customizer or in the respective pages.

You can edit any of the 5 footer options that come by default and modify the content, or you can create a new footer and edit it with elements, you can do almost anything.

6. Pages

In the section of the pages we have different options of templates:

- A. Default Template: They are the default pages of the theme, they can have sidebars or not, they are usually used for simple content, but you can also activate the elementor page builder.
